ELWOOD'S
CHRISTMAS
GREETINGS
BY PHOEBE TAYLOR
1971

It was Christmas morning

2.

The animals did not know it was Christmas

But they knew that Elwood was coming To feed them

Each one greeted Elwood in his own way.

4

The horses gave a soft nicker and rubbed their noses on his arm[5]

The donkeys brayed

and nibbled his leg

The dog wagged his tail

and followed Elwood everywhere

The cats came running and rubbed against his knee

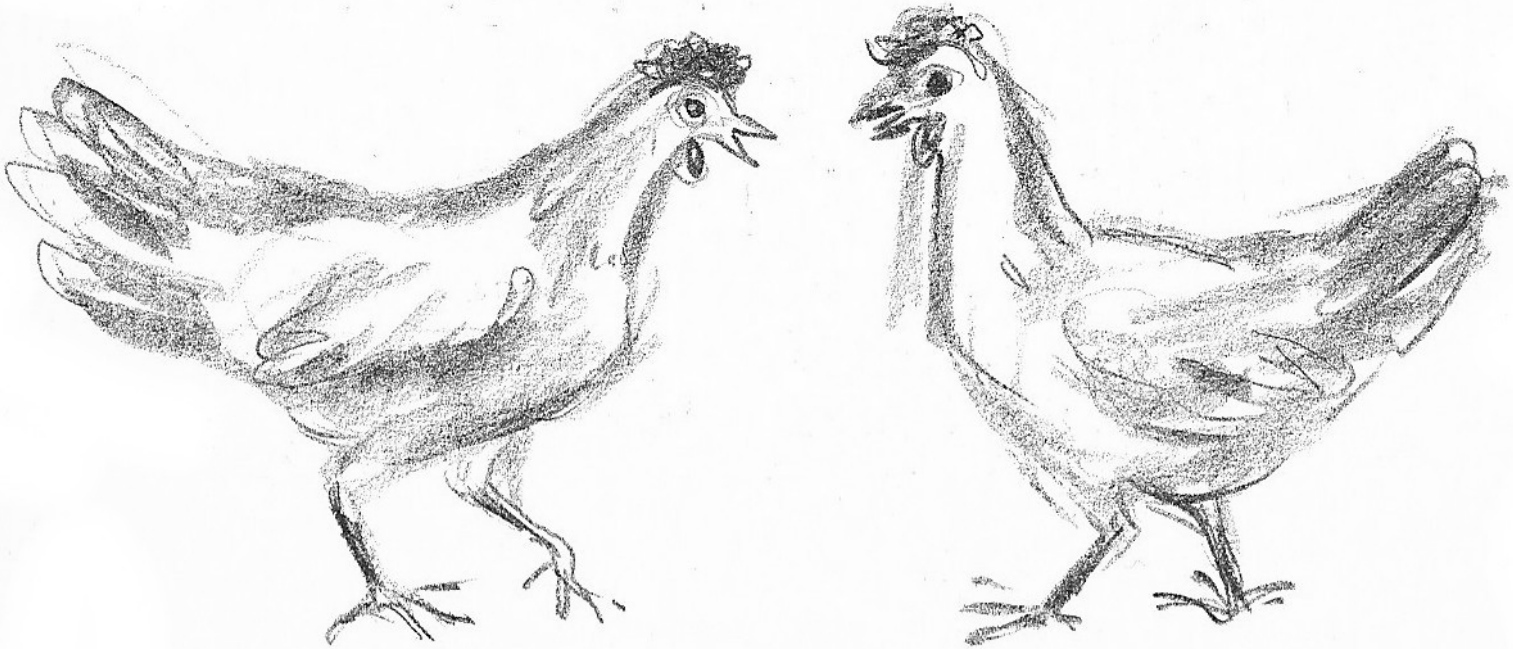
The rooster crowed

The hens went cut-cut-cut



Elwood smiled.
"What a lot of nice greetings," he thought

a hicker

a bray

a wag

a rub

a crow

These are my Special
Christmas
Greetings
