

We have had 46 renewals of membership thus far. There are several people who Elaine has suggested that we omit. I wonder if we should have a separate Excel page to list those who we are dropping. Then should they ever rejoin, we would have their records.

John went to the website of the software that is used by Friends of the Delaware Canal and there seems to be a discrepancy between what we thought it would cost and what the software says. We will have to look into this further.

I am working on a letter to send to students at NH-S and Solebury School inviting them to have a free student membership until they are 18. It would not include any of the discounts that paid members are entitled to have.
