

1. Michener Art's Museum (MAM) archived tapes project is moving along. 6 tapes left to post on the web. End June now seems a realistic deadline.
2. Michener Arts Museum Recording Solebury and Bucks County Artists Project opened with MAM's Docents, March 3d. Docents have yet to reply. Will be difficult to follow up, may not work.
3. Historic Carversville Society project has slowed due to their volunteer's time being taken for family health reasons. All good intentions remain and we hope to take this up again in April.
5. Will Rivinus' 5 interviews are now on our Web site. Will has expressed interest in doing a 6th on the topic of his major book: the Delaware and Lehigh National Heritage Corridor. We have added this to the list.
6. A list of possible interviewees is being put together and vetted with various Society members. This will be shared with two volunteer interviewers in March and we will attempt to generate more OH. List in it's current state is attached.
7. Ranulp Bye's daughter, Catherine Bye Caster's tapes has been set up for web use and is in line to go up on the web. Again End June is hoped for deadline.
8. Phoebe Taylor, Artist, horsewoman and author
Oral History is in the line. Her pamphlet/books are out for scanning. Should be done by April 15th and we will then work to set up a place in the web Library to put them. her recipe books prompts the question: should we set up a separate "research collection" for the local recipes we come across? Will discuss with Beth and Judy/Team. It could be a Draw for our site, as well as historically interesting to have the "old recipes" available.
9. Nancy Pyle mcGee contacted us with high praise for our total web site. She will visit from Florida in May/June and we plan to do an oral history of her memories of her Solebury life in particular her experiences at the schoolhouse in the 1940's, teachers etc. She will also bring photos of her and her friends at the Schoolhouse from this time, something our archives lack!
