

1. HCS, Historic Carversville Society's, seven video and oral histories are now all up loaded to our web site.

2. At the end of 2015 we had the following number of oral and video histories open for access from our web site.

	Oral Histories	Video Histories
Artists:	40	7
Canal:	2
Carversville:	3	4
Farmers	4	1
Music/ Musicians	3
New Hope Residents	7
Solebury Residents	16	1
Teachers	6
Totals	81	13
Grand total	94

3. National Canal Museum tapes:

We have contacted them and are looking at their collection of OH and Videos. Their archivist, Martha Capwell Fox, is working with us. We know for certain that they have videos of Edward Redfield and William Lathrop, plus a strong collection of canal boat people.

4. Possible interviewers remain to be worked with: George Yarnell, Gayle Goodman, Alison Kingsley with whom we still need to follow up on their doing oral histories.

5. List of possible interviewees is attached. None have been approached.

6. Dec. 9th, Robert McEwan, for STHS, made a presentation our OH collection and methodology for the Historical Society of Pennsylvania. Their Small Archives Forum was held at the Pearl Bucks Center and was attended by about 18 archivists, curators and interested historical society members.

7. NHHS approached us to give anOH talk as part of their April Monday evening Talk series. Carole Martin and Marnie are in touch on how to do this as a joint venture, possibly using Trinity Church. Robert is responsible for writing and giving the talk. Target date is April 25th.
