Wine Tasting was put on hold.

Lumberville Store was too expensive.

1740 House could only do it in November which conflicts with our annual meeting covered dish.

We're trying to find someone that would be willing to lend her private home that would meet our needs. (Big, old house, great kitchen/dining area and stellar views with enough room for 35 to 50 people)

We feel at this point that we have to explore our options. We have feelers out. My feeling is that we need come up with something fantastic or it isn't worth our while.

We've been approached about a private Sips party.

Sandy Vallely, our "volunteer presenter", was approached by one of her friends for a party of 10. She would like to use our space, tables, easels, brushes, etc. and give us $200.00 of the $400.00 she would be charging. I said that I would want to be there as a representative of STHS, but didn't think there'd be a problem otherwise. Its still in the planning stage, but what do we think about using our space this way?
